INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY REPORT ON PATENTABILITY

Box No. V	Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement
1. Statement
Novelty (N)	Claims	1-6	YES
	Claims		NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	1-6	YES
	Claims		NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-6	YES
	Claims		NO
2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)
Reference is made to the following document:
D1: DE 37 31 349 A (MOKVELD) 30 March 1989 (1989-03-30)
Document D1 is considered the prior art closest to the subject matter of claim 1 and discloses:
an annular gap seal for a valve, with which the flow of a fluid from a high-pressure side to a low-pressure side of the valve can be blocked in a blocking position, the valve comprising a cylinder, through which the fluid can flow and in which a piston can be axially displaced, it being possible to seal an annular gap between the piston and the cylinder in the blocking position using the annular gap seal, which lies in a groove that runs around the cylinder, each side of the groove having an axially projecting, circulatory lug, with two mirror-symmetrical sealing rings which are arranged in the groove so that they are axially adjacent being provided, and in the blocking position the fluid from the high-pressure

Box No. V

Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement side causing a sealing face of a first sealing ring facing the low-pressure side to be pressed in a fluid-tight manner against a wall of the groove.

The subject matter of claim 1 thus differs from the known sealing device in that:

in the blocking position, the fluid from the high-pressure side causes a sealing shoulder of the first sealing ring facing the low-pressure side to be pressed in a fluid-tight manner against the axially projecting, circulatory lug in the groove and a sealing lip of the first sealing ring facing the low-pressure side to be pressed in a fluid-tight manner against the piston.

The subject matter of claim 1 is thus novel (PCT Article 33(2)).

The present invention can therefore be considered to address the problem of guaranteeing sealing both in the designated direction of flow and counter to the designated direction of flow, thereby minimising leakage flows.

The solution to this problem as proposed in claim 1 of the present application involves an inventive step (PCT Article 33(3)) for the following reasons: there is nothing in the prior art that would prompt a person skilled in the art to solve the problem in this manner.
